

“Thought and Action in Aristotle and the Aristotelian Tradition”

June 16-18, 2009

Fourth Annual Marquette Summer Seminar in Ancient and Medieval Philosophy

Scheduled Presenters:

Prof. Rob Bolton, Rutgers University
Ms. Karen Zwier, University of Pittsburgh
Prof. Joseph Novak, University of Waterloo
Prof. William Jaworski, Fordham University
Dr. Anthony Crifasi, University of St Thomas, Houston
Prof. Julie Ward, Loyola University of Chicago
Prof. Thomas M. Olszewsky, University of Kentucky (emeritus)
Prof. Owen Goldin, Marquette University
Prof. Eugene Garver, Saint John's University
Prof. Christos Evangeliou, Towson University
Prof. Michael Bauer, Fordham University
Ms. Kristen A. Inglis, Cornell University
Prof. Franco Trivigno, Marquette University
Ms. Johanna Luttrell, University of Oregon
Prof. James Wood, Boston University

Presented by the Midwest Seminar in Ancient and Medieval Philosophy and the Aquinas and the Arabs Project with the support of the
Helen Way Klingler College of Arts and Sciences

For more information, please contact Richard C. Taylor, Marquette University
Email: mistertea@mac.com or Telephone: (414)-288-5649
Conference Website:

http://web.mac.com/mistertea/Midwest_Seminar/2009_Summer_Aristotle_Conference.html

Marquette University
Department of Philosophy
Milwaukee, WI